

Thierry d'Argent

Deputy Head of Global Banking and Advisory

Deputy Head of Global Banking and Advisory

Thierry d'Argent began his career in 1988 at Oliver Wyman and was deputy Cabinet Director in the Brussels Federal Government between 1991 and 1992. He then joined Barings and JP Morgan in 1998, to develop its investment banking franchise in Europe and he became in 2001 Head of Mergers & Acquisition for JP Morgan in France. Thierry d'Argent joined the Mergers & Acquisitions' team of Societe Generale Corporate & Investment Banking in 2009 and was appointed Global Head of Mergers and Acquisitions in 2010. He became Global Head of Corporate Finance in 2012 and then Co-Head of the Coverage and Investment Banking division in 2015. Thierry d'Argent was appointed Deputy Head of Global Banking and Advisory in July 2019. Thierry d'Argent has been a member of Societe Generale Group Management Committee since January 2014.

Thierry d'Argent graduated Summa cum laude from the Solvay Business School and the University of Brussels.

Meet the Group Management Committee

Follow Thierry D'Argent on LinkedIn

